Assembly Puts Zorro in Act

Characters ranging from Zorro and an elephant to Little Red Riding Hood got into the act last Friday as Parkway Elementary School students put on an assembly, with each class showing fellow students something of what they had been learning.

The assembly is a weekly occasion, with classes presenting a drama based on something they had been studying.

Last Friday, Mrs. Lola Smith's kindergartners gave a poem, "An Elephant," while Mrs. Edna Hicks' class presented "Three Ducks and a Beehive." Mrs. Pearl Hensley's first graders gave "The Old Woman Who Lived in the Shoe," and Mrs. Shirley Henderson's first and second grade students presented "Little Red Riding Hood."

Pantomimes were given by Mrs. Jean Carter's second and third grade students, and John Lankford's fourth and fifth grade group. Larry Miller's fourth graders acted out the whitewashing scene from "Tom Sawyer," and Dan Alvich's sixth and seventh graders gave "Zorro's Capture."
